"Rio Bravo" --- A Mexican Lament. Such of our readers of the Columbian Magazine as have seen the Vera Cruz Journal containing the original of the Rio Bravo Lament by the popular Mexican poet, Don Jose Maria Joacquim de Ho Axce de Saltillo, will perhaps not find the following hasty translation [by Charles Fenno Hoffman] unacceptable.

Rio Bravo! Rio Bravo! Saw men ever such a sight, Since the field of Roncesvalles Sealed the fate of many a knight? Dark is Palo Alto's story,

On those fatal fields so gory, Many a gallant life went out. There our best and bravest lances, Shivered 'gainst the Northern steel, Left the valiant hearts that couched them, 'Neath the Northern charger's heel.

Sad Resarca Palma's Route,

Rio Bravo! Rio Bravo! Minstrel ne'er knew such a fight, Since the field of Roncesvalles Sealed the fate of many a knight!

Rio Bravo, fatal river, Saw ye not while red with gore, Torrejon all headless quiver, A ghastly trunk upon thy shore?

Heard ve not the wounded coursers Shrick upon your trampled banks, As the Northern wing'd artiflery Thundered on our shattered ranks? There Arista, best and bravest,

There Raguena, tried and true,

On the fatal field thou layest,

Nobly did all men could do. Vainly there those heroes tally, Castile on Montezuma's shore, " Rio Bravo "-" Roncesvalles," Ye are the names blent evermore.

Weepest thou lorn lady Incz. For thy lover 'mid the slain, Brave La Vega's trenchant falchion Cleft his slayer to the brain. Brave La Vega, who all lonely, By a host of fees beset, Yielded up his sabre only When his equal there he met. Other champions not less noted, Sleep beneath that sullen wave: Rio Bravo thou hast floated An army to an ocean grave.

On they came, those Northern horsemen, On like eagles toward the sun, Followed then the Northern bayonet, And the field was lost and won.

O! for Orlando's horn to rally His Palladins on that sad shore-" Rio Bravo"-" Roncesvalles," Ye are names blent evermore.

THE PUBLIC LANDS .- The net proceeds of the sales | ALMANAC FOR THE YEAR 1846. Battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la of the public lands for the last fiscal year were $2,077,022-or about one million five hundred and fifty-seven thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven acres; and from the first sales in 1787 up to the end of the last fiscal year, $118,607,335. The average annual sales have been below two millions of acres; yet the aggregate sales in 1834, '5, '6 and '7, were a fraction over fifty-one and a quarter millions. In consequence of the speculation mania of that period, the sales of a single year amounted to about fifteen millions, and formed one of the principal items in the vast increase of the public revenue. In 1837, they were suddenly reduced to about the usual amount.

> > REPUBLICATION OF The London Quarterly Review, The Edinburgh Review, The Foreign Quarterly Review, The Westminister Review, and Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

ME above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals-Black wood's Magazine being an exact fac simile of the Edinburgh edition. The wide-spread fame of these splendid Periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of a similar stamp now publi-fied, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor, and forbearance not often found in works of a party character. They embrace the views of the three great parties in England- "THE subscribers have just received another new supply of Goods, Whig, Tory, and Radical. "Blackwood" and the "London Quar- L. to which they invite the attention of all who tary where they terly" are Tory; the " Edinburgh Review," Wing; and the "West can buy cheapest. It is useless to commercie; the fact is, we have minster," Radical. The "Foreign Quarterly" is purely literary, got a little of everything in the way of Pry Goods, Groceries, Bardbeing devoted principally to criticisms on foreign Continental Works. ware, &c., all of which we will self-cheaper than the cheapest.
